Beast Mode is a Indie Beat 'Em Up, created by developer, Joe Sylvester who is best known for his work on Dine & Dash, Towerfall, and his passion project, QWOP. It was finished in just two months, and the project has no definite release date. The game currently features the "classic" arcade gameplay of several nostalgic classics (see: QWOP, Dash, Towerfall), but is also a challenge, and does not hold back! Being the developer of most of the games mentioned above, the goal for Beast Mode is to share that exact same experience, not to just create a simple copy of other games with different skin. The graphics and gameplay was completed with the aim of having a unique experience, and it shines through. The music was created using a self-recording VST instrument called Project Sound Wizard. There are no plans to make a sequel at this time. Key Features: * Over 10 levels of action-packed blasting excitement, from the underground catacombs of Ancient Rome to the fiery pyramids of Phobos. * Fully unlockable full screen mode that allows you to play in any manner you want, including the inability to tap on the screen at all. * Infinite ammo; upgrade your weapons from the pause menu, gain abilities, new skills, etc. * Upgrade your ship with points you earn from completing levels * A variety of floor-breaking abilities like Titan Climb (destroys certain walls), Split Screen (splits your screen in half), Bullet Time (lessened your enemy's bullet speed), and the ultimate Adrenaline Rush! * Instant respawn * Choose from 30 weapons, with unique combos and plays that make Beast Mode hard to master * The best Replay Value of any indie title, with the ability to replay levels at your own pace and any difficulty setting you want * Metascore and GameRankings Advertisement: Reviews * IGN * 9 out of 10 9/10 - "Beast Mode will satisfy the most addictive of action game-lovers as well as the most experienced, old-school shooters out there." * Pocket Gamer * 4.5/5 - "This is a game that deserves to be popular. It's fun, challenging, at times a little unfair, and something that you can take part in for a good few hours without really getting bored of, with a tight control scheme and a genuinely surprising amount of content. In Your Realm (or In Your Power) is a book published by Richard D. Gravelle and Daniel S. Graves that chronicles the story of five remote drug dealers living in the fictional town of Paradise, California, California. The book is based on the real-life case of Richard Rodriguez, a Rodney King of the jungle. In Your Realm has been published in London, United Kingdom, and Tokyo, Japan. In 2009, the book was awarded the title of one of Religion News Service's "Ten Books That Shaped Religion in America." Plot In Your Realm is an investigation into the trafficking and distribution of precursors used in the illegal manufacture of methamphetamine. Nothing in the book is based on real life events. The story of Richard "Bear" Rodriguez plays a role in the story that is loosely based on reality. The traffickers named in the book are various people referred to only as "The Camper." Bear Richard "Bear" Rodriguez was born in the year 1960 at the Veterans Hospital in Los Angeles. He would grow up in numerous foster homes and juvenile facilities until the age of 18, when he left on his own, not knowing where he was going. He found a job with Tech, Incorporated and quickly became their best process chemist. He stole, pooled his money, and started buying up the laboratory equipment for his lab. He would hold his jobs only because of the fact he had the respect of his co-workers and supervisors. He eventually joined his co-workers and supervisors in using their rewards to buy what he needed for his lab, even paying for it out of his wages. Bear used his expensive equipment to test for the presence of illegal drugs. The dealer in the back of his store had seen Bear walking by with his money and thugs, but when they couldn't locate him on the spot, they knew they had found where he was staying. On their second visit to his home, the Camper's thugs harassed Bear with and at gunpoint demanding he surrender his drug equipment to their boss. Bear refused, so as the Camper and thugs dragged him away, they left his girlfriend, Tami (who had probably seen his bed shaking in the back of the van) in the store with their drugs. Bear's girlfriend was finally able to get out of the store and to the road, where she called for help. Before the police arrived, however, the Camper and his thugs

Breakout is a minigame released by Makerware in the middle of last year. The game is classified as "traversal" in the PlayStation 4 family of software, according to the Developers Games suite community bulletin. In the studio's own words, "Traversal is a platformer that is about as close as you can get to a rail shooter in a game that doesn't require an Xbox 360". It is the first game by the studio and, most likely, the last. It is a platformer with a strong sense of style, where the "core gameplay" is about platforming and dodging. The game is based on 4 pillars: 1. You can run, jump, stretch and dive. 2. You can use your special abilities to tackle the obstacles. 3. You can crouch if your life is being threatened. 4. You can shoot if you're being shot at. Breakout is a genre bending platformer that can be played both during short breaks between your work or as a recreational game. Do you like traversal but not good platformers? You're in the right place. Do you like classic platformers? You can also play it with a joystick, through the use of triggers. There are no death penalties. If you fail a jump, you'll get 2 lives. If you want to continue, simply tap the A button and wait for the game to load. It's that easy. Are you a platforming enthusiast? Do you like rail shooters and/or traversal? Don't get me wrong, the game can actually be challenging and addictive, but it is not necessary to be good to enjoy it. Controllers are supported. Logitech gamepad or PS4 Pro compatible controllers are recommended. Controllers can be used, but they don't have a "preferred" mode of use for the game. There is no preferred controller. Breakout is a compact, fluid and intense game but is sometimes sensitive to a few factors like the distance from the screen, collision detection with some objects and the texture size. If you feel something that's not really working or not optimal in the game, please share it with us and we will try to fix it. About this Game: Capture the Flag is a game where two teams compete in an elimination-style competition. Each team has a flag of three colors, while each member of the opposing team is armed with a gun that shoots four
